

Job Descriptions of Senior Gas Market Analyst

POSITION TITLE:	Senior Gas Market Analyst
DEPARTMENT:	Gas Market Analysis Department
REPORTS TO:	Head of Gas Market Analysis Department
WORKS CLOSELY WITH:	Energy Economics & Forecasting Department & Data & Information Services Department

JOB HIGHLIGHTS

Monitors and reviews the short-term gas and energy market aspects and developments. Monitor on annual basis the development of energy policies worldwide and in specific regions Contributes to the scenario building for GECF Model in his area.

PRINCIPAL RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Performs short term monitoring to review the gas market in all its aspects (supply, demand, pricing, etc.);
2. Regularly reviews current gas and energy market developments;
3. Carry out any specific study requested in the Program of Work and/or by the Executive Board;
4. Follow up the strategies of oil and gas companies in areas of downstream (demand side);
5. Monitor and analyze main trends of energy policies in major consuming and producing countries and related regions;
6. Develop a quarterly working paper on areas of his expertise and in relation to energy market;

Ref: Notice of Vacancy 2016/02

Appendix 4

7. When required, assisted by the lawyer, analyze the evolution of institutions and regulatory regimes for collective actions across energy industry;
8. Contribute to the scenario building for GECF Model in his area;
9. Monitor on annual basis the development of unconventional gas worldwide in collaboration with the Energy Analyst and Energy Technology Analyst;
10. Monitor on annual basis the development of energy policies worldwide and in specific regions;
11. Work closely with all the analysts of the Department on specific areas that are not related to his expertise;
12. Carries out any other tasks assigned to him by his relevant superiors as pertain to his background, qualifications and position.